Perú

October 28, 2010

Dear Team Leader,

We have been praying for you and will continue to do so until you complete your mission and return safely home. We are so glad that you have chosen to bring a team here to Peru to serve Christ and spread the gospel alongside us.

We want to make the preparations and planning for your trip as simple as possible. Through the team member packet we hope to answer many questions and inform the team members of expectations and opportunities. It is incumbent upon you as the team leader to help train and instill the importance of God's work through you and your team.

Please read through this packet carefully as it has the necessary timelines for us to assist you in making your mission trip successful not only for you, but also for your team and those that they will be serving. Some of your information is very time sensitive in that we need to make reservations necessary for your team's in-country travel and procure any materials that may be necessary for your team. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us by email (billy@drumsforchrist.org). We will be glad to help you in any way possible.

Your brothers and sisters in Christ,

Billy and Laurie Drum

Fees

Costs for Peru mission teams

1. Fees for short term teams vary with size, ministry, length, and location, therefore a budget will be developed for food, lodging and in country travel.
2. Materials fees for projects and/or medicines for medical campaigns.
3. Out-of-Pocket Expenses for meals in Lima, tours, gifts and souvenirs (not covered in the original fees).
4. Roundtrip Air Travel that you arrange with travel agent, cost will vary. (not covered in the original fees).
5. Travel Insurance (not covered in the original fees).
6. Exit taxes of $30 per person. (not covered in the original fees).

What do the fees cover?

Mission Society led location-specific training and materials, on-field setup costs, on-field leadership, pre-field and post-field mailings, on-field accommodations, on-field meals, safe drinking water, ground transportation, construction materials, gifts and offerings, translators, support staff and administrative costs. Please note that meals in Lima upon arrival and before departure are generally not covered in the original fees. These meals will be at the expense of the short term team member.

Deposits:

Beginning in 2012 we are requiring each team to give a non-refundable deposit of $100/per person to hold a date in our Short Term Team Calendar. Your team is NOT scheduled on the Peru Short Term Team Calendar until this deposit has been received. Should your team cancel, this deposit will default to the Mission Account in Peru for ministry activities.

A team deposit of 50% of the team budget is due 75 days before your arrival date. The remainder of the balance must be paid made at least 30 days in advance of your arrival date.

Important Travel Notes:

Please contact the Peru team as soon as you get your air travel arrangements. When planning your air travel, remember that all team members must arrive at the mission destination at the same time and depart at the same time. No exceptions. The Lima airport is quite far from where the teams stay, and we can not ask our Field Facilitators to make multiple trips to the airport, or to wait hours for all members to arrive.

Change and Cancellation Policy:

Changes in participants, either additions or reductions can be made up to 60 days in advance of the teams projected arrival. No changes, either additions or reductions will be allowed after this point, and any fee paid will be forfeited.

Involvement expense is based on estimated cost projections, and may be subject to increase. All applications and contributions are nontransferable. In the event of political unrest or natural disaster, The Mission Society reserves the right to cancel the trip or to relocate the work to another location in Peru. In the event the trip is cancelled for any reason, team members will be offered another mission experience at a similar expense.

Training

Training

Probably the most important yet most overlooked aspect of short term missions is team training before going to the mission field. We have found that a well prepared team is more effective in their work, as well as being a better witness for Christ to the people that they are serving. Training should include spiritual preparation, prayer, cultural education and sensitivity, preparing and sharing your personal testimony, team building, and devotionals.

The Mission Society Peru Team has developed a 5 week mandatory training that covers cultural education and sensitivity, spiritual preparation, prayer, preparing and sharing your testimony and devotionals. This course does not address team building and therefore should be handled by each team individually. The training module is located online at www.perustraining.weebly.com . The module contains online reading, video and audio clips, devotionals, and weekly study guides. It also includes links and downloadable lessons for Kid's Clubs. This training is mandatory for all teams serving in Peru.

The Mission Society can provide additional training through our Equipping Short-Term Mission Leaders Workshop. Please visit <http://www.themissionsociety.org/go/equipping> for more information. There are also a number of books available that we can suggest for your team to read and study before coming to Peru.
